

Fifth Grade News

December 14, 2009

Dear Students and Families,

“Christmas Week” is already upon us! This Wednesday we will have our class Christmas party to celebrate the coming of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. We will be exchanging stockings with our first grade study buddies (shh..it’s a surprise ☺), eating together, and exchanging our Secret Angel gifts (remember $10 maximum)! We will re-tell the Christmas story and we might practice our program a bit.

Most of you know that I will be out of town Thursday and Friday. Mr. Paul has agreed to substitute for me and he and the students will have a good time together. Remember that Friday is a minimum day and there will NOT be afternoon day care. Please be prompt in picking your student(s) up at 12:30. Also, progress reports will come home with your child this week.

The students should have by now had a book report book approved by me. We are reading historical fiction. The books are being approved on a case by case basis, so make sure you have shown me your book before you leave for break.

Have a truly joyous holiday! See you January 4, 2010!
Have a great week!
-Mrs. Cabán

BIBLE: Christmas Story. No test

SPELLING: No list

MATH: p. 134-137

LANGUAGE: p. 90-91

READING: Continue Despereaux

HISTORY: India continued

PE: No PE

MUSIC: “Character Matters Too” program

COMPUTERS: Finish “Famous Dungeons” search

SPANISH: Unit 2 Test