

Fifth Grade News

June 1, 2010

Dear Students and Families,

I hope all of you had a wonderful three day weekend! It is hard to believe that we are already wrapping up fifth grade!

The students will be having their last tests today and tomorrow. Do your best. This is it! You can do it ☺

On June 7th and 8th we are having minimum days for parent conferences. I am sending home your scheduled time today. Please let the office know if this time will not work for you. We will be discussing SATs and the year as a whole.

We celebrated summer birthdays today. Happy birthday guys! This week we will also be celebrating with our study buddies and having our school field day!

Have a Blessed week!

-Mrs. Cabán

Here's what's happening in:

Bible: Jonah - No test

Review last week's chapel verse for this week's recitation: Proverbs 4:6-7

“Do not forsake wisdom, and she will protect you;
love her, and she will watch over you.

Wisdom is supreme; therefore get wisdom.
Though it cost all you have, get understanding.”

Math: Quiz tomorrow on multiplying/dividing decimals

Language: Unit 15 test tomorrow

Reading: The Lightning Thief

History: Chapter 12 test today (we will be reviewing first 😊)

Science: Electricity experiments

Spanish: Test on conjugating -ar verbs using vocabulary from the entire year, and Unit 5
